On Sunday evening, January 10, 1964, Delta Nu Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon initiated a pledge class of 10 members. Two of the new Fraters are Associate Members. The Fall Pledge Class was a very small class, but we are pleased and proud of the high quality and caliber of men we now have.

The following men are Tekes at Delta Nu and proud Fraters:
James Thomas Bayles, Pittsburgh, Pa.
John Peter Demaio, New York, N.Y.
Lonnie Lee Hinders, Allison, Iowa

Richard Charles Messerly, Vincent, Ia.
Joseph John Peirce, Englewood, Colo.

Alberto Francisco Rodriguez, Des Moines, Iowa
William Bruce Templer, Jewell, Iowa
Delta Nu's new Associate Members are as follows:
Dr. Burton Laird Richey

Freedom is yours now, this very minute, and what you do with it is up to you. You can become what you have it in you to become.

TOP TEKE CHAPTER

In 1963-64 Delta Nu was awarded the Top-Teke Chapter award for small-size campuses. This award, one of four given throughout the Fraternity, is in recognition of effective chapter management and excellence in achieving the ideals of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Recognition of Delta Nu Leadership in the field of activities and scholarship was given through this trophy. Also Delta Nu was recognized as Great Plains Leadership Top Teke chapter. 1964 was a great year and 1965 proves to promise an even better year.

A LOOK TOWARDS THE FUTURE

It seems to be customary for the adviser to write a rather wordy discourse in retrospect concerning the events of the months since the last issue of this missive. Those events you will find chronicled elsewhere in these pages, but they are only a proud glance backward, for we of Delta Nu are not looking back! We are looking forward; some perhaps with apprehension, but most are, I think, looking with confidence and enthusiasm. Today's accomplishments and even disappointments are history. Tomorrow's hopes are our goals. Whether we attain those goals will not so much depend on what we did yesterday, but what we do tomorrow. Tomorrow looks like it will be a great day for "doing." We have the manpower. We have the know-how. But, most importantly, we have the will. And we will!

HOMECOMING

Just in case you haven't heard, Homecoming was still about the same this year. A rousing tribute in satire to the legendary exploits of Charley Beocat at homecoming hung another first place plaque on the old Teke House wall. A first place clown brightened the event, but, over all, the judges held to their long-standing determination not to be swayed by mere imagination and creativity.

"Beocat," top variety show skit, was an adapted satire built around the character of the English legend-poem "Beowulf." Written and directed by Frater Mike Knepper, the skit was not quite as horny as the picture may appear. The victory was good, as was having new initiate Jim Bayles named top individual clown.

The beauty float division fell off from last year's winner. The Teke entry was a big green dragon with a part-time perpetual motion action while St. George fought for the fair Alpha maiden. The head of the beauty float committee always gets plenty of sleep; Frater Roger Horne was no exception.

The house decorations were built on the ancient Greek theme of Jason's Quest for the Golden Fleece. The many-headed serpent posed a problem in staging and time posed another. The biggest problem, though, was the decorations themselves.

By the way of afterthought, the float tied for fifth and so did the house decorations. If there is a secret to homecoming besides a lot of hard thankless work, it is style. The winning style for the past few years has been evaluated in a report now on file in the fraternity house. All of the past few winners in every division have shared certain common features in their divisions. There may well be a homecoming supremacy trophy on that front mantle come next fall.

HOUSE REPORT

Every issue of the Delta Nu Review you have read has no doubt pressed its plea for a new house; so does this one. But something new has been added to this—plans for the immediate future.

You may remember when the house was set up to accommodate four men to a room. This plan is being brought back with the addition of space in the old attic, now the topside sleeping quarters. Plans currently include space for thirty-one men.

The kitchen has also been remodeled. New cabinets have been built with sliding doors. Swinging doors for a swinging kitchen have been added at the front entrance from the dining room. Even the shower-room has been redecorated (and disinfected!)

A minor problem has come from the "library fund." It is illegal. Lawyers and the national housing advisor have said that there is no way to put donations in such a fund so as to be tax deductible. So all the money contributed to this fund will be turned over to the new house fund.

But the chapter has decided to return some value on contributions after all. Alumni dues, as you know, are payable in May, just before Uncle Sam's budget bashing. This year these dues will include all of your meals at the house while you are back for the Spring Formal and all of the incidentals at a cocktail party immediately preceding. Your ten dollar alum dues will help lay the new foundation.

Dear Fraters,

The annual Spring Formal, The Red Carnation Ball, will be held on Saturday evening, May 15th in Maryville. This event is the climax of another year with TKE. As in the past, we are striving to make this year's Ball bigger and better than any in the past.

You, as an alumni of Delta Nu, should hold this event with a special meaning. You are of primary importance when we plan this event. Delta Nu extends an invitation to every alumni to come back to Maryville and help us make the 1965 Red Carnation Ball a big success.

Along with the dance, the weekend will have a direct concern with our alumni. A party is planned for the alumni with the chapter providing the place and the preparations (ice & mix) for an alumni get together. An alumni meeting is also planned with a special emphasis on laying the ground work for an active alumni chapter of Delta Nu Tekes. Chick Statler from national will help coordinate a steering committee for this alumni chapter once you, as alumni, show an interest in such an organization. Dale Cooper will be here to answer any questions you might have.

Such an organization will be as important to you as to the active chapter. The active chapter will be able to keep in much closer contact with you and you will be able to assume a role directly affiliated with the active chapter's activities. It will give the alumni more say in planning the activities that appeal to them. In reality, an active alumni chapter can do as much for Delta Nu as the active chapter can do for itself in many events.

For this reason we strongly urge you to reserve Saturday, May 15th for a visit with us here at the "Old Teke

We are sure that Delta Nu will benefit by having Frater Wiles as an associate member.
