Letter from the Prytanis... State of the Chapter

Dear Fraters,

Coming off a successful homecoming, the spirit of Delta Nu is very high. The local fraters are pointing toward the Yule season and its many activities with anticipation of many more successes. We are looking forward to capturing the spirit trophy for the football season. Also, we are making plans for a great spring rush program, budgeting our finances accordingly. Another project is in the area of fund raising, as we hope to have two such drives to help our house needs and loan payments.

I feel that in order for the chapter to really rise and improve, there need be some long range planning and specific goals established and reached by the fraters. With the aid of the executive council, we have set up some goals to attain in the coming year. Some of the more general goals consist of establishing a sound financial program; establishing good rapport with administration, faculty, sororities, student body, and the community; organizing an efficient alumni communication system with up-to-date addresses and possibly an alumni chapter; promoting chapter harmony and co-operation; raising academic standards; participating actively in intramurals; and having a number of good money - making projects.

Communication will be the key to our chapter's success this year. Our ability, or lack of ability, to communicate with our alumni, advisors, and each other will determine our level of achievement.

Yours in the Bond,

Leroy Kariker
Prytanis

Homecoming '69

Delta Nu recorded a successful homecoming celebration, October 25th, as the chapter had great spirit and more than reputable entries in the float and house decoration competition. The judges somehow saw fit to reward our efforts with only fourth place finishes in both categories. However, the alumni who returned, a majority of campus and city personnel, and especially the local fraters felt that the Tekes had fallen victim to the proverbial "screw job".

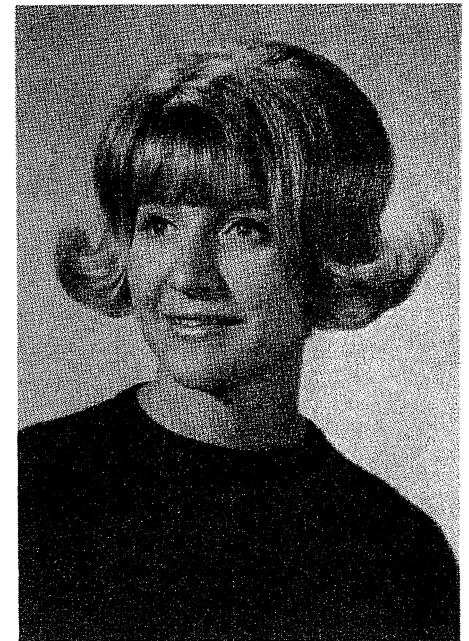

Perhaps the best term to describe homecoming this year would be along the line of just a "great day." It began with the parade as the fraters, dressed as engineers, pulled the float, "The Little Train That Thought It Could."

Lunch was served at the house following the parade, then on to the game. The Bearcats came through with a fine 20-16 victory over Springfield, bringing their record to two wins and four losses, 1-1 in conference.

Following the game, a reception was held at the Merry Villa for the alumni. Approximately thirty attended this meeting, the game, and/or the pre-party prior to the dance. Among those who attended were Fraters Jerry Lewis, Roger Anderson, Al Rodriques, Bruce Templer, John Schroeder, Ed Propat, Steve Neuroth, Ron Howitt, Marshall Dann, Bill Andrews, Ron Anderson, Dale Anderson, Bob Cotter, John Mobley, Keith Jorgensen, Jerry Lemons, John Mundy, Jon McAvoy, Tim McDowell, Elvin Andrews, Jim Taylor, Bob Walker, Bob Foster, and Terry Dahms.

The alumni that returned and the active chapter were disappointed that not more of the fraters could make it for the festivities. However, everything went smoothly as many "old" fraters renewed "old" acquaintanceships.

The undergraduate chapter does sincerely appreciate that as many fraters could come as did, however, and hopes that more will be able to make it to the reunion next May for the RCB.

One of the major goals of the active chapter is to create more effective contact with our alumni. At the alumni meeting held at the reception during homecoming festivities, a plan was presented to involve the alumni in assisting the chapter with alumni communication.

The plan consists of using a representative (s) from each pledge class as a corresponding secretary. The secretary's responsibilities would consist of contacting his pledge brothers, informing them of alumni activities in addition to efforts of the active chapter, and reporting address changes to the undergraduate chapter. This would provide much more personal communication and hopefully create much more active alumni.

A questionnaire is enclosed in this letter checking availability of each alumnus and asking for those interested in attending the Red Carnation Ball in May to let us know. Please reply so that we may get the program off the ground and have a good turnout for RCB. We hope to have more fraters back than ever before. Will you be among them? Let us know.

Bearcats are for Real

Attention Alumni!! NWMSC's Bearcats are doing fine job in football (!), with a possible shot at the conference title (!!); while prospects look great for a top flight basketball team. Alumni should be watching for results of the squads' games this year.

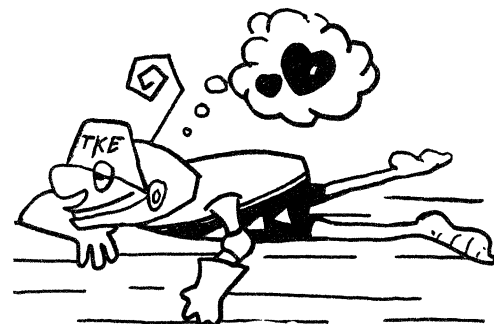

Three junior college transfer students, two being top-notch guards, the other a 6'-8" sharp-shooting forward, will add greatly to the experience of Seniors Gary Howren, Don Sears, Pat Donovan, Gary Goodson, and Ron Peterson; Junior Darnell Moore; and Sophomores Sylvester Johnson and Don Johnson. The two new guards are Carl Jenkins from Decatur, Illinois and Ken Whitney from Des Moines, Iowa. Ned Gardner is the new forward.

Things are definitely looking up for the Bearcats, especially since last year's entire squad is back on the court for this season. The roundballers are a definite threat for the conference championship of the M.I.A.A., a conference which has been rated among the toughest small college leagues in the nation.

A MAN IS A MAN RIGHT OR WRONG WHITE OR BLACK

We at Delta Nu have been confronted with a difficult problem; that of rushing a Negro. Surely, most of you realize the delicacy of this situation. It is wrong to discriminate because of color. Because of this, we feel that we should view the situation from all aspects, from all points of view. You, our alumni, have a definite guiding influence on our affairs; so, we ask for a response from you.

We all want to do what is best for the chapter. Should we step out? remain aloof? remain neutral? What is your reaction?

New Daughter's

Dear Fraters,

On Monday, October 27, the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon formally initiated eleven new members into the Daughter's of Diana. These women are: Miss Jacque Strother, Ames, Iowa; Miss Heidi Jurko, Excelsior Springs, Missouri; Miss Judy Whitehill, St. Joseph, Missouri; Miss Sheila Nelson, Sac City, Iowa; Miss Debbie Anderson, Des Moines, Iowa; Miss Debbie Mendenhall, Des Moines, Iowa; Mrs. Tara Turk; Maumee, Ohio; Miss Madonna Rath, Audobon, Iowa; Miss George Anne Light, Ridgeway, Missouri; Miss Becky Nelson, Lake View, Iowa; and Miss Eileen Connole, Charlotte, Iowa.

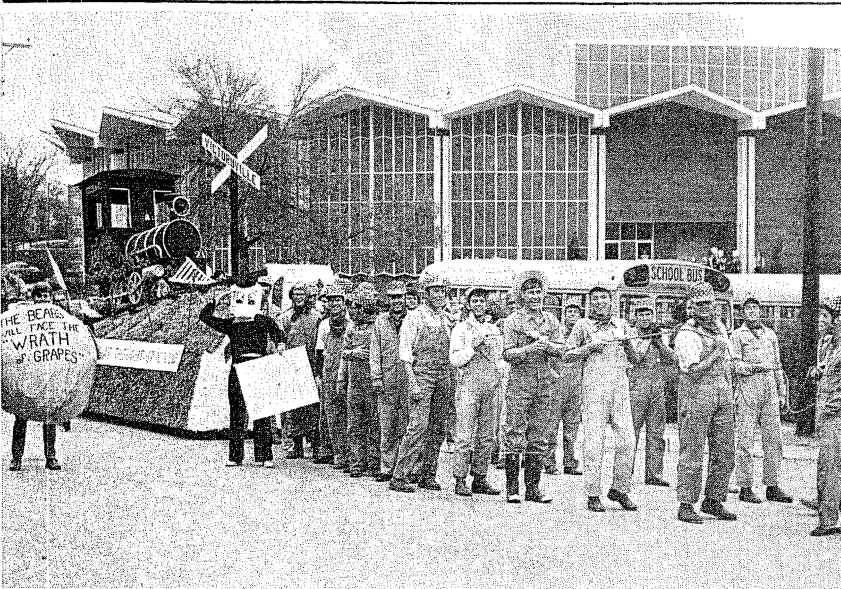

New officers for the Daughters were elected the following week. The President-elect is Eileen Connole. Vice-President is Helen Goldsmith; Secretary, Beck Nelson; Treasurer, Madonna Rath; and Historian is George Anne Light.

This year a stronger bond between the Daughters and Delta Nu chapter is in the formation as they are planning to put a momento on campus so that they will be recognized by other organizations as well as beautify the campus. They want to be heard and known on campus; by speaking out and through definite action they are making their presence known.

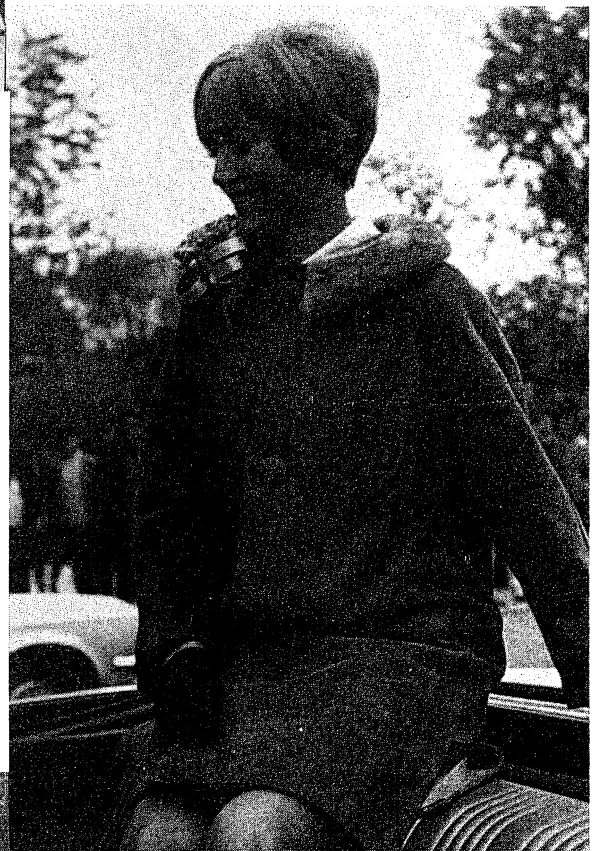

With the "new blood", determination, and aggressiveness of the Daughter's of Diana, Tau Kappa Epsilon has yet another stepping block up the hill of success.

stressed to a much greater extent than it has been in the past. A man, even if he is a good pledge, cannot serve the fraternity nor himself on campus for elsewhere if he does not have an established grade point. A demerit system has been employed to "weed out" any pledge which the chapter may feel does not meet its standards. The pledge class presently is involved in money-making projects for pledgeship.

Now that homecoming is over, we have settled down to what will hopefully be a prosperous semester and one which will help TKE climb to its deserving position of number one.

TEKES CAPTURE SPIRIT TROPHY

The Tekes won the spirit trophy given by the MSC cheerleaders for support of the football team this past season. Fraters Bruce Stadlman and Dave Harrison rallied the troops for a top performance in the final home game to edge by the Phi. Sigs and Delta Sigs. Use of signs, banners, burma shave techniques, the bell, a siren, stirring bugle calls, balloons, spirited yells, and a genuine psyched attitude were contributing factors to the victory. The Tekes are anticipating a fine showing in basketball, and hope to retire the trophy next fall.

TKE failed to get into the flag football playoffs for the first time in several seasons. However, we did finish the season on a winning note by taking our last game by a score of 19-6.

Frater Jim Wright did recapture what ground we lost in the supremacy race by taking first place in the tennis singles competition. At this time, heading into tug-of-war and wrestling, Teke is only four points behind the present leader.

Spirit is high as all the brawny, cagey, and allround tough Tekes are preparing their bodies for individual combat on the wrestling mats. Mrs. Potter has been instructed to go heavy on the salads and meats, light on the potatoes. Will the prize contenders make weight? Report on that will come in our next letter. Keep the faith.

OFFICERS ANEW

So that each of you may know at least some things about who is running the undergraduate chapter, here is a brief introduction to each of the current office-holders:

The Prytanis this semester is Frater Leroy Kariker. He has previously held the offices of Hegemon and Histor; thus, Frater Kariker was able to make the adjustment to his office with some ease. A senior from St. Joseph, Frater Kariker is also Vice-President of the Intra-Fraternity Council and is serving again this year as student director of intramurals. In his freshman year at MSC, Frater Kariker was on the varsity basketball and baseball squads, but a knee injury ended his sports career for the Bearcats. A recent honor came when Frater Kariker was selected by Blue Key a Man of the Month for September.

Frater Ron Thompson is now Epiprytanis. Hailing from New Virginia, Iowa, Frater Thompson is a senior and truly a fine representative of Tau Kappa Epsilon as our "man on campus." A fine athlete, Frater Thompson competes for Teke on the football field, the basketball and tennis courts, and in track.

The new Grammateus is Frater Dave White, a sophomore from Kansas City. An English major, Frater White feels right at home in handling the job as secretary. Frater White is thinking seriously about going on to law school after graduating from Maryville. Meanwhile, Frater White is also a varsity golfer for Northwest Missouri State.

Serving as Crysophylus is Frater Phil Stutzman, a junior, who retained this office from last semester. Being an accounting major, this job fits right in with Phil's work and he has done a fine job since taking the office. Active in all sports, Frater Stutzman was on the varsity basketball squad for the Bearcats.

Hegemon this semester is Don Jones, a senior from Fairfax, Missouri. Qualified (assistant Hegemon last semester) and highly respectable, Frater Jones was the unanimous choice of the chapter for the job. In fact, a special vote was made so he could take the office since Frater Jones does not live in the House. An Agriculture major, Frater Jones participates in every sport for the fraternity.

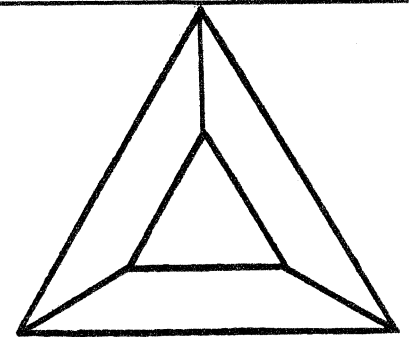

Frater Jim Wright, a Mathematics major from Richmond, Missouri, is Histor this semester. Frater Wright, a talented artist, will be responsible for much of the artwork and lettering you will see this year in correspondence, on campus, in the Missourian, and in the Newsletter. Involved in every aspect of athletics, Frater Wright is also on the varsity baseball squad for the Bearcats. He is a sophomore this year.

Fairfax has another office-holder among Teke's leaders this semester in Frater Stan Swan, the new Hypophetes. Frater Swan is a senior this year and represented TKE on the school homecoming committee along with Frater Jones and Frater Joel Grier. A dedicated student, Frater Swan could have graduated from Northwest Missouri State in three years had he wanted to.

Holding the double office of Pylortes and Social Chairman is Frater Dan Leighninger, a senior from Stanberry, Missouri. A member of the Northwest Missourian staff and one of Tau Kappa Epsilon's representatives on the Intra-Fraternity Council, "Fast" Dan has a lot of contacts on and off campus and was able to step right into his role as Social Chairman quite easily. If the first few weeks of this semester are to be followed up by more of the same, Dan could very well become one of our chapter's finest Social Chairmen.

Well, fraters, there it is. Hope you know more about our present officers now. Still, the best way to learn about them and the rest of the undergraduate chapter is to come to the House and check up on things. You'll always be welcome.

Message from the Hegemon

Dear Fraters,

Teke's nine man pledge class is undergoing a highly remodified pledge program. Most of the old traditions will be retained; however, under the present program, scholarship is being
